COLLABORATION CHAT SERIES:
Devices & Endpoints
[Tuesday, April 5, 1:00-1:30PM ET]

CLICK HERE TO REGISTER

In this second session of the event series, we'll take a look at collaboration devices & endpoints including headsets, IP phones, video conference equipment, and unified collaboration apps.

Identify current challenges, learn about products, and see how you can get started (or improve your current setup!).

This chat includes a Q&A panel session and interactive games with gift card prizes for the winners! Download the Slido app on Apple or Google to get ready for some fun! Note: You can attend one or all sessions of this series; they are standalone topics and content.

Count me in!

As a thank you for joining us, please enjoy a free lunch delivery for the event (first 40 orders)!

Enjoy lunch with us!

Place your meal order by April 4th, receive your delivery just before the event begins on April 5th, and then attend the event and have lunch with us while you learn about collaboration devices & endpoints!

Tech Updates

Defending Against Critical Threats
Analyzing Key Incident Trends

The Cisco Secure Report "Defending Against Critical Threats and Analyzing Key Incident Trends" analyzes major threat trends and topics from 2021 including Log4j, ransomware attacking critical infrastructure, more reported vulnerabilities than in any previous year, supply chain attacks growing in momentum, and more.

2022 Global Networking Trends Report
The Rise of Network as a Service (NaaS)

Cisco's 2022 Global Networking Trends Report "The Rise of Network as a Service (NaaS)" highlights the ways network technologies are being used to improve business resilience, regardless of circumstance. It focuses on NaaS as an emerging trend that has big implications for the future.

5G

Private 5G promises a new era in smart factories, smart supply chains, and hyper-connected enterprises. But where are we in terms of private 5G adoption? And is it getting easier to make that 5G future a reality? In this article "Answering Key Questions About Private 5G", Cisco's EVP and general manager for the Mass-scale Infrastructure Group, Jonathan Davidson, shares his thoughts on private 5G - its present, its future, and how Cisco is spurring its adoption.
