DISYS Solutions Inc. Announces New Brand Name

04/28/22 Ashburn, VA: DISYS Solutions Inc. is now doing business as DSI Tech. The transition to this new brand name has taken place since 2017 when dsitech.com was launched as the company website. The logo features the updated name while maintaining brand recognition.

“The name ‘DSI Tech’ honors our company history of more than thirty years while combining it with a clear indication of our technological expertise,” said Alan Bechara, Executive Vice President. “This new brand demonstrates our continued commitment to providing the very best solutions and services to our current and future customers.”

DSI Tech began its journey in 1991 with Atul Bhatia and Vinu Luthra, who continue to lead the company to this day. It started as Network Connections, Inc., then AV Networks, Inc. in 1993, and a merge in 2000 with DISYS (Digital Intelligence Systems). Bhatia and Luthra dissolved their partnership with DISYS after ten years and became an independent company in 2010 known as DISYS Solutions Inc., creating a legacy of technology leadership, operational growth, and industry success. Now doing business as DSI Tech, the company continues its vision to be the premier IT value-add reseller and services provider of top-class industry products and solutions.

“DSI Tech has evolved to what it is today thanks to the brilliant vision of our founders and the many years of devotion and hard work from our team members,” said Bechara. “We look forward to growing even more as a company and embracing new innovations in technology along the way.”
